

Censorship Curtain Flung Around News Of Retreat In Korea

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO—(AP)—Censorship is throwing a black curtain around news of the tremendous pullback of United Nations forces in Korea. Field censors have clipped large chunks out of dispatches on the grounds of military security. Some Associated Press stories have arrived in Tokyo minus their first and most important paragraph.

Dispatches Junked

Correspondents are not permitted to use the word "retreat" in connection with the pullback. Security officers in Tokyo say this is a planned and orderly withdrawal—not a retreat in the face of Red China's overwhelming manpower. (Webster's unabridged dictionary says "x x x a retreat is properly an orderly march, in which circumstances it differs from a flight, rout, etc.")

A field dispatch from A. P. Correspondent Tom Lambert was completely junked by censors here because it dealt with what American troops are thinking in the pullback.

Lambert's and other field dispatches show the soldiers know they are in retreat.

Controls Airtight

All field copy is routed through Eighth Army headquarters in Korea for censorship. The minimum delay is one hour. Censorship is airtight because the Army controls all communications.

In Tokyo correspondents still voluntarily submit their material to a "press advisory division," then transmit it over uncontrolled telegraph and telephone channels. There is a minimum of delay and security officers have been willing to discuss disputed points with newsmen.

Censorship was applied in the field less than three weeks ago after Army officials said the competition for news had produced a number of security violations. Since then the only case of this sort has been what officers termed premature disclosure of the withdrawal from Seoul.

By DON RUTH

U. S. EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea—(AP)—This U. N. command announced today war correspondents violating censorship regulations will be subject to expulsion or trial by court martial.

The announcement said such action would be taken in extreme cases "where investigation proves that the circumstances warrant."

The Eighth Army's announcement was accompanied by a list of specific regulations by which censorship in Korea now will operate. Some of the points were covered in previous directives.

Correspondents "may be subject to disciplinary action because of intentional violation of these and other regulations, either in letter or in spirit," the announcement added.

Hidden Meanings Barred

It also said that a newsman "will be suspended from all privileges for the distortion of his dispatches in the office of the publication which he represents."

The Eighth Army said also it would suspend correspondents "for the use of words or expressions conveying a hidden meaning which would tend to mislead or deceive the censors."

The newly-formed press security division will scrutinize for security all news stories originating in Korea, the announcement said. The division will notify a correspondent of any security breach so that he may change his story or hold it until security no longer is involved.

End Of World Expected Today

Religious Sect Waits In Darkened Cottage

KEREMEOS, B. C.—(AP)—After 15 days of chanting and prayer in a darkened stone farm cottage, 35 members of a religious cult were ready today either for the end of the world or to "meet their God."

There appeared to be some doubt just what the "God" of light, as they call the selves, expect to happen.

Followers passed out word after their vigil began Dec. 26 that the knowledge of earth's impending end and Jan. 9 had come in a vision to their grey-haired leader, Mrs. Grace Agnes Carlson.

Blankets have been pinned over windows of the isolated cottage on the outskirts of this little fruit farming community of 1,000. Within are men, women and children who have divested themselves of things worldly.

Many sold all their possessions to be free of debt "when the Lord comes." Some disposed of orchard lands for as little as $2 an acre.

If the day goes by without any manifestations from the heavens, it will not be the first time Mrs. Carlson has been wrong.

She first predicted doomsday would be Dec. 23. Her devout followers, dressed in white and singing hymns, trudged to the top of a nearby mountain to await the second coming of Christ. They spent the night there in snow and biting cold, then returned home to prepare for today's promised cataclysm.

Kalamazoo Mother Faces Trial; Baby Found Dead In Closet

KALAMAZOO, Mich.—(AP)—Mrs. Donna May Champion, 22-year-old mother whose baby's body was found in the closet of her home, will be tried on a voluntary manslaughter charge in the infant's death.

The Plainwell, Mich., woman was bound over to circuit court yesterday and bond was fixed at $5,000. Her newborn son died last Nov. 13.

St. Lawrence Seaway Up In Congress Again

United Backing Given By Michigan Solons

By JOE HALL

AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Michigan congressmen of both political faiths are united on at least one thing in the 82nd Congress—the drive to try to put over the $800,000,000 St. Lawrence seaway.

Representatives Dingell (D-Mich.) and Dondero (R-Mich.) were among those introducing resolutions authorizing construction of the controversial project on the first day of the new Congress.

Chances Not Bright
Many of the members hold privately, however, that the seaway doesn't appear to have any better chance in the new Congress than in its predecessors.

The project has been up for consideration on Capitol Hill in some form for almost a half century.

There has been some talk that President Truman has authority under the defense production act passed last September to go ahead with the project without further congressional action, but there is no real expectation he will do this.

The basic argument for the seaway revolves around shipment of iron ore on the lakes. The great source of supply now is the Mesabi range in Minnesota at the western end of Lake Superior.

This range has supplied a high percentage of the nation's iron ore for decades. But it now is approaching exhaustion and the rate of depletion will climb in a defense or war economy.

The best replacement sources appear to be in Labrador and Venezuela, where development of tremendous ore bodies has started.

Tonnage Toll Proposed

Completion of the seaway would make it possible to ship ore cheaply and efficiently from these sources to the present steel mills in western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan, Indiana and Illinois.

Proponents of the seaway argue that one of two things will happen when the Mesabi ore is gone and if the St. Lawrence project is not built:

1. The steel industry will move out of the Middle West to the Atlantic seaboard to be near ports where foreign ore can be received. This would make it more vul-

Highway Department Shuffles Personnel At Escanaba Office

LANSING—(AP)—In a reshuffle of personnel to get highway department employees in the Upper Peninsula closer to their work, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler today announced the assignment of two construction engineers away from the Escanaba office.

The Escanaba general branch office and sign shop will be retained, Ziegler said, though total personnel will be reduced from the present 39 to 37 and construction supervision will be moved to Crystal Falls and Newberry.

Two Engineers Leave
"It is very possible, however," he added, "that we will soon assign another right-of-way man to Escanaba, bringing the total up to 38."

A. A. Anderson, Upper Peninsula engineer at Escanaba, has been assigned to the Lansing office, and Robert A. McCormick has been assigned from Escanaba to the district one office at Crystal Falls as district engineer in charge of road construction in the western part of the peninsula.

To get a construction engineer in each of the peninsula's two districts John A. Willis has been transferred from the metropolitan district at Redford to the district two office at Newberry. He will be in charge of road construction in the eastern part of the peninsula.

R. F. Rosatti will continue as maintenance engineer for district one, and E. S. Anderson for district two.

Branches Not Moving
The changes were made, Ziegler said, after a survey lasting several months. The large program of road construction and bridge work in the Upper Peninsula, he said, can no longer be handled efficiently from one office. The redistribution of employees will cut travel expense and result in more efficient operations and closer control of the work, he added.

"Despite some apparent apprehension in Escanaba," he said, "there is no thought of closing the Escanaba office. It has been there for some 30 years, and it is going to stay there."

In addition to the 37 employees at Escanaba, 42 highway department employees will be stationed at Crystal Falls, 47 at Newberry, 56 at the ferry office at St. Ignace, and two at the tourist information lodge at Menominee for a total of 183 employees in the Upper Peninsula.

Ziegler said the total will be increased seasonably by field men on construction projects.

Telephone Rate Boost Granted
Manistique Exchange Affected By Order

LANSING—(AP)—Democrats were busy today explaining why the state public service commission granted a rate increase as soon as Democrats gained complete control.

A week after John M. Veale, appointed by Governor Williams, took office, the commission unanimously granted Michigan Associated Telephone Co., the state's second largest, an $870,000 annual rate boost.

"The decision is entirely in accord with the policies I have urged," said Williams, "that a careful investigation and report be made by the commission staff and the increase be granted only when warranted to maintain a fair rate of return and decent service to the public."

The rate increases, ranging from 85 cents to $2.50 a month, will go into effect Jan. 15. The company was last granted a rate increase, totaling $644,276, on January 2, 1949.

The company serves 80,000 customers in two Upper Peninsula exchanges and exchanges scattered through the Lower Peninsula.

Among exchanges affected by the increase are Muskegon, the company's largest with 21,000 customers, Ludington, Coldwater, Grand Ledge, Manistique and L'Anse.

Reds Close On Heels Of Retreating U. S. 8th Army In Korea

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied troops fought desperately today to slow the Communist tide rolling toward the heart of South Korea and menacing the U. S. Eighth army's retreat route to the old Pusan beachhead.

Two United Nations battalions attacked a Red Korean force two miles south of battle wrecked Wonju, road hub abandoned Monday to the Reds.

Ground Recovered
An allied regiment counterattacked strong Communist forces six miles southwest of Wonju.

Allied artillery slammed shells into the Reds and fighter-bombers roared down in close support. Field dispatches said the fighting still was raging shortly before midnight Tuesday.

The counterattack six miles southwest of Wonju was in the area where the Reds gained a half mile Monday and allied forces later recovered most of the ground.

Action on the western front south of abandoned Osan was limited to patrols.

Two Armies Spotted
But army intelligence reported the Chinese were building up a massive attacking force around Osan. At least two Chinese armies—possibly 80,000 or more troops—were spotted in the area.

The Eighth Army continued its retreat to the southeast. Vanguard units of the fast moving Red forces pressed close on the heels of rearward troops.

The Korean Communists, bul-warked now by hundreds of thousands of Chinese who entered the war when the allies almost had it won, were retracing their route of summer conquest into South Korea.

The Reds walked into abandoned Osan Monday. Osan, 28 miles south of Seoul, is the town near where the first American soldier of the Korean war was killed last July.

Massing in the Osan area for the continuing pursuit of the fleeing Eighth Army, the Reds moved artillery southward across the Han river at Seoul.

The Eighth Army spokesman said one force estimated at 10,000 troops was spotted near Osan. Allied pilots said Communist troops were clogging the roads south of Seoul and in the Wonju area 55 miles southeast.

Masquerade As Peasants
The airmen were ordered to shoot up all groups behind Communist lines, whether in or out of uniform, except for obvious family groups or children.

Associated Press Correspondent Stan Swinton reported from Fifth Air Force headquarters that the order was provoked by the Reds' persistent use of civilian clothing to camouflage their troops.

Pilots spotted 4,000 Reds changing Monday from uniform to peasant clothing.

A Red patrol attacked two allied companies early Tuesday 13 miles southeast of Osan. Red mortar fire showered another U. N. company 14 miles southeast of Osan. Allied forces drove off the Red patrol.

Eisenhower Travels Around Europe To Find His New Army

By PRESTON GROVER

PARIS—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the Atlantic pact army's top commander, continues a 10-nation European tour today to find more of the army he is to lead.

At 2 p. m. he and his staff take off for Brussels, second stop on the tour of Atlantic pact powers which will supply his army.

He plans to go also to Holland, Denmark, Norway, Britain, Portugal, Italy, West Germany and Luxembourg, before returning to Paris. Then he flies home by way of Iceland and Canada to complete the circuit.

Before leaving for Brussels, the five-star general planned a visit to Fontainebleau Chateau, 35 miles south of Paris and one of the spots being considered for his historic international army's headquarters. The Chateau now is headquarters for Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery, commander of the five-power "Brussels pact" military alliance.

Today Eisenhower is to lunch at Fontainebleau with Air Marshal Sir James Robb, a member of Montgomery's staff.

The general spent yesterday talking to military leaders of France, one of the 12 Atlantic pact nations which are building an international defense wall against possible aggression by Russia. An authorized source said

"all the problems of defending Europe" were discussed.

Eisenhower said Sunday he would return in mid-February to set up his permanent headquarters "somewhere near here."

Most speculation as to the site of Eisenhower's permanent headquarters favors Versailles, historic Paris suburb where the general had his allied headquarters after the liberation of France in World War II.

Congress Sizes Up Revenue Bill At 75 Billions

Federal Sales Levy May Be One Item

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman said today the nation must be taxed "until it hurts" to arm the free world against the menace of Communist aggression.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, it was learned, believes that despite widespread recommendations for "pay-as-you-go" financing, taxation steep enough to pay out of hand for the huge re-armament effort would rip the nation's economic fabric.

Short 25 Billion
Any hope that sizeable new federal deficits could be avoided by increased taxes appeared to be fading as members of the new Congress sized up probable outlay and came to a tentative conclusion that the government will need somewhere in the region of $75,000,000,000 in the coming fiscal year. That is $25,000,000,000 more than the record $50,000,000,000 collections of this year.

The president gave his warning that "it is necessary to tax until it hurts" in a conciliatory letter to Senator Byrd (D-Va.), with whom Mr. Truman has often clashed. The senator made the letter public today.

The letter immediately aroused talk of a possible national retail sales tax, or other forms of taxation on all or most of the nation's commerce.

No Alternative
It was learned that Secretary Snyder told the armed forces "industrial college" here in a recent talk:

"We must recognize that it is impossible in fact to cover all the expenditures of a full-scale military effort through taxation of

Red Spy Ring Tips Revealed

Miss Bentley Tells Of War Activity

NEW YORK—(AP)—Former Soviet spy courier Elizabeth Bentley related yesterday that Communist cloak-and-dagger activity in wartime Washington uncovered top-secret data for D-day in Europe.

She told her story in testimony at the federal perjury trial of William W. Remington, 33, former commerce department economist. He is charged with lying before a grand jury when he denied he ever was a Communist.

Miss Bentley said Remington was a member of the Communist "underground," and therefore had no party card or other credentials.

However, she said, he paid party dues to her in Washington and gave her a "super-secret" formula for synthetic rubber and secret information on wartime aircraft development and production.

Much of the testimony by Miss Bentley revolved around other espionage groups with which, she said, Remington was not connected.

She said one of these, allegedly headed by Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, provided her with the D-day European invasion data as well as a tip that the U. S. was about to break a Russian code.

Delta History Society To Hear Woodford

The Delta county Historical Society at its annual dinner meeting to be held at 6:30 p. m. Friday at the Delta hotel will hear Frank B. Woodford, Detroit journalist and author of "Lewis Cass, the Last Jeffersonian," biography of Michigan's most noted territorial governor.

Because of the general interest in Woodford's talk on the subject "A Yankee in Hiawathaland," tracing the travels of Cass in the Upper Peninsula and his treaties with Northern Michigan Indian tribes, Delta Historical Society members are inviting friends and other interested persons to the meeting.

Reservations for the dinner must be made by Wednesday evening through Mrs. Nancy Thomas, Historical Society secretary, Carnegie Public Library.

Woodford has been employed with the Detroit Free Press for the past 20 years as an editorial writer and columnist. His interest in the life of Lewis Cass resulted in authorship of the biography recently published by Rutgers University Press.

The book has been generally accepted by reviewers and historians as a major contribution to the history of the Old Northwest Territory and the United States. Woodford is currently working on a new biography of another major personality in early Michigan history.

Annual reports, election of officers, and other business is scheduled for the Friday meeting, according to Frank Bender Jr., Soo Hill, Historical Society president.

Wisconsin Senator Asks How Pearson Got Secret Messages

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator McCarthy asked Secretary of the Army Pace today to tell him how "secret military messages" became available to columnist Drew Pearson.

The Wisconsin Republican, who is engaged in a running feud with Pearson, made public a letter in which he told Pace:

"If someone is actually stealing secret decoded messages from the Pentagon and handing them to Pearson the lives of many of our young men and the security of this nation are in grave danger."

In a Senate speech last Friday, McCarthy charged that "some man in the decoding room (at the Pentagon) is guilty of high treason" if the messages published by Pearson in a column Dec. 30 were authentic.

The column said in essence that the Chinese Communist army fighting in Korea is considerably smaller than has been generally reported.

Pearson replied that before using the cables from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Tokyo headquarters "I consulted the Pentagon, which assured me there would be no security risk provided the dates of the cable changed and a few words omitted. This was done."

Supreme Court Rules C&NW May Cancel Runs

The Chicago and North Western railway now has legal permission to abandon its passenger trains between Escanaba and Iron River.

The railroad company won its fight in the state supreme court in Lansing yesterday to eliminate its trains No. 9 and 14 between Iron River and Powers. The decision overruled the Ingham county circuit court and the state public service commission which previously approved abandonment of trains No. 10 and 15 between Escanaba and Powers, but

Medical Men To Register

Registration Here On January 15

All male doctors, dentists and veterinarians aged 50 and under are required to register with the Delta county selective service board January 15.

The draft board office, at 1222 Ludington street will be open from 8 to 12 and 1 to 5 p. m., to accept registrations. Mary Wagner, draft board clerk, and Mrs. Olive Gifford, assistant clerk, will be in charge.

All medical doctors, dentists and veterinarians within the third and fourth priorities will be included in this special registration.

The registration is the second since last October, called in an attempt to boost the number of medical officers in the armed forces. In October those in the first and second priority were registered.

Medical men who now are members of reserve components of the armed forces are not required to register for the draft.

Others who are exempt are commissioned officers, warrant officers, pay clerks and enlisted men of the armed forces and alien residents.

Persons eligible for registration under the draft order, but who receive their degrees after Jan. 15, will be required to register on the day they receive their degree or within five days afterwards.

Draft board officials also state that even though medical men are registered under the selective service act of 1948, they still must register Jan. 15.

First and second priority medical men are those who were deferred as students in World War II and students, who though deferred to continue special education programs, served 90 days but less than 21 months on active duty subsequent to Sept. 16, 1940. The third and fourth priorities include medical men who did not serve subsequent to Sept. 16, 1940 and those who did.

All men 50 and under who have received one or more of the degrees of bachelor of medicine, doctor of dental medicine, doctor of veterinary surgery and doctor of veterinary medicine are required to register Jan. 15.

nerable to attack and would leave many midwestern communities as "ghost towns."

2. One will be shipped by rail from east and Gulf coast ports to the present mills, but much higher steel prices will result because of the increased transportation charges.

The resolution introduced jointly by Dingell and Rep. Blatnik (D-Minn.) provides for a 50 cents a ton toll on all bulk mineral and agricultural cargoes. This revenue, they say, would meet all the costs of the seaway.

The political situation has not changed in favor of the seaway project in the new Congress.

Senator Connally (D-Tex.) remains as head of the Senate foreign relations committee which handles legislation on the St. Lawrence project, and he has opposed it.

Nevertheless, the seaway's backers believe their best chance to get a floor vote is in the Senate. The drive is to be concentrated there first.

In the House, Rep. Buckley (D-N. Y.) takes over as chairman of the public works committee from former Rep. Whittington (D-Miss.), who has retired. Public works is the House group which considers such proposals.

However, Buckley is rated just as much a foe of the project as was Whittington.

D. H. Campbell, Iron Mt., Dies

Mine Engineer Had Wilson Sheep Farm

Funeral services for D. H. Campbell, 75, mining engineer and former sheep ranch operator at Wilson, who died on Thursday, were held at the Campbell residence in Iron Mountain on Monday.

A graduate of Michigan College of Mines in 1905, Mr. Campbell obtained practical experience in underground working at the mines in Vulcan.

In 1906, he became superintendent of the D. H. Campbell Munro Iron Mining company at Iron River. He also played a role in the development of the Hiawatha, Rogers and Chicagoan mines, all of the Iron River district.

In 1919, after 13 years with the Munro firm, Mr. Campbell established an office in the Miners State bank building as a consulting engineer.

In 1931, the Campbells purchased the Wisconsin Land and Lumber company farm at Wilson, which they made their home for 12 years. The Campbell family developed the tract into one of the most progressive seed potato and dairy farms in northern Michigan. They experimented with sheep raising and other livestock efforts. The family moved to Iron Mountain in 1943.

Besides the widow, he is survived by Dr. David H. Campbell Jr., a geographer and government consultant in Washington; Hugh H. Whiting, Ind.; and George A. Campbell, Evansville, Ind.

Mr. Campbell died while visiting with his son, Dr. Campbell, in Rollings Hill, Va., a Washington, D. C., suburb.

LANSING (AP)—Speaker Victor A. Knox (R-Sault Ste. Marie) made sure of solid Republican control of House committees today, making as few changes as possible in important chairmanships.

Announcing his selection for committee memberships, Knox distributed the 63 Republicans to overlook the important committees. The 34 Democrats were assigned to inactive committees or to small minorities on important ones.

Important committee chairmanships which went unchanged were Rep. Joseph E. Warner (R-Ypsilanti), Ways and Means; Rep. Howard R. Carroll (R-Mt. Clemens), Judiciary; Rep. Louis E. Anderson (R-Northport), Taxation; Rep. Harold Hungerford (R-Lansing), Education; Rep. Harry Hermann (R-Laurel), Labor; and Rep. Glenn B. Robinson (R-South Haven), Liquor control.

Rep. Robert M. Montgomery (R-Lansing), majority floor leader, was appointed chairman of the powerful state affairs committee to succeed Bert J. Storey (R-Belding) who retired. Rep. Howard Nugent (R-Bad Axe), was named chairman of the roads and bridges committee to succeed A. P. Decker (R-Decker), who was elected to the Senate.

To succeed the late Floyd E. Town of Jackson, Rep. George Gillespie (R-Gaines) was named chairman of the agriculture committee.

Knox appointed as new members of the Ways and Means committee Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain), Dade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo), Clarence F. Graebner (R-Saginaw), Patrick Doyle (D-Deerborn) and Gerald L. Murphy (D-Detroit).

In addition to Warner, hold-over members are Reps. Alexander M. Mac Kay (R-West Branch), Arnell Engstrom (R-Traverse City), Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), T. Jefferson Hoxie (R-St. Louis), Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), Carl G. Lindquist, R-Iron River and Richard L. Tomson (R-Highland Park).

Other committee chairmanships went to Rep. Emil R. Peltz (R-Rosers City), conservation; Rep. Hugo A. Nelson (R-Indian River), fish and fisheries; Rep. Andrew Bolt (R-Grand Rapids), insurance; Rep. John D. Kruse (R-Manistee), veterans; Rep. Howard S. Estes (R-Birmingham), public health; Rep. Alvin E. Richards (R-Marquette), revision and amendment of constitution, and Rep. Homer L. Bauer (R-Charlotte), rules and resolutions.

Charity Drives Are Discussed

Community Chest Revival Urged

The multiple charity drive situation was discussed at the breakfast meeting of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce at the Sherman hotel this morning.

About thirty persons attended the meeting. The group recommended that the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce call a meeting of officers of the Community Chest and other fund raising committees to discuss plans for next year.

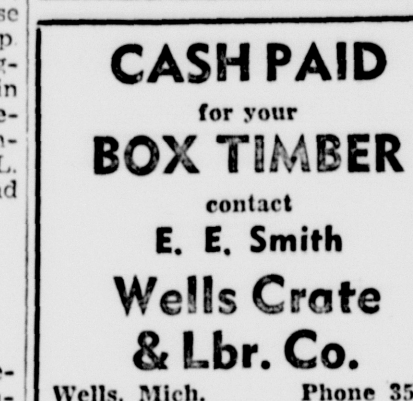

It was pointed out in the discussion that the Community Chest program, although it did not include the Red Cross, anti-tuberculosis, cancer and crippled children drives, had worked out quite satisfactorily in the past.

This year, the Community Chest was abandoned by the Salvation Army, Boy and Girl Scouts. There was some criticism that the independent drives were carried on virtually at the same time.

Delta County's Traffic Record Is Blackest In Upper Peninsula

THERE were 62 persons killed in traffic accidents in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan last year, the same number of traffic deaths as in the previous year. But Delta county, which led all counties in the traffic death list, reported 13 persons killed in road mishaps during the year, or 21% of the total.

Delta county's black traffic record last year is cause for grim reflection. The county with the second highest number of traffic deaths is Marquette county with eight. Marquette county, however, can gain some satisfaction in the knowledge that its own death toll is decreasing—from 13 in 1948 to 10 in 1949 and finally to eight in 1950. Delta county jumped from six traffic deaths in 1949 to 13 in 1950.

Traffic experts say that motor accidents and a high traffic toll are caused by a combination of factors—lack of enforcement, light sentences in court to convicted violators, the development of careless driving habits, etc. A particularly important phase of the problem is the part that drinking motorists play in the accident toll.

Why is Delta county's accident death toll so extremely high in comparison with other counties in the Upper Peninsula? Perhaps the way to find out is to appoint a county-wide committee to make a comprehensive study of the problem and to seek causes. Such a committee should include not only law enforcement officers, but insurance people and representatives of the public.

In 1948 Delta county tied with Marquette county for the highest number of traffic deaths. That year as in 1950 Delta county reported 13 traffic accident deaths. Houghton county that year reported 11, but Houghton, like Marquette county, has produced much better records in each of the succeeding two years. Houghton reported eight deaths in 1949 and only five in 1950.

After the black record of 1948, Delta county showed considerable improvement in 1949 with only six traffic deaths. The trend reversed itself in 1950, unfortunately, and Delta county finished that year with another toll of 13 deaths. So in a period of three years 32 persons have died in Delta county highway mishaps. It is a shameful record, but it will be even more shameful if we shrug our shoulders and do nothing about it.

St. Francis Hospital Still Awaits Accreditation

THE new list of hospitals accredited by the American College of Surgeons has been announced and St. Francis of Escanaba is still among those institutions not included on the list.

Hospital officials have indicated that they are striving to meet the requirements for accreditation and expect to reach their goal before long. The hospital's facilities, personnel, equipment, etc., are equal to or superior to the requirements of the College of Surgeons, it is reported, but accreditation has not been forthcoming because of problems in the record department.

Whatever the cause for the failure to receive approval, the public served by the hospital will be happy, and we know the hospital staff will also be happy, when St. Francis joins the hospitals of St. Joseph in Menominee and St. Mary's in Marquette, operated by the same religious organization, in attaining accreditation by the American College of Surgeons.

Eisenhower Faces Big Task In Europe

BETTER than almost any man alive, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has come to symbolize the hopes of free men. There will be supreme faith in him as he begins building a unified European defense force.

Accepting this crucial responsibility undoubtedly represents a real sacrifice for the general.

But he was the unanimous choice of the 12 Atlantic pact countries and he has responded to the call of duty as one would expect him to do. Said President Truman in announcing his selection: "His experience and talents make him uniquely qualified."

Some military men believe Eisenhower will have more authority in his new post than he did as Allied commander in Europe during World War II. He probably will need it, for he faces a task of extreme difficulty.

In World War II, the general's enemy was already declared when he took over. He knew what he was up against. He knew, too, that Germany was being engaged heavily by Russia in the East, and that he wouldn't have to combat the Nazis' full power.

This time that same Russia is the potential, though not the declared enemy. But Soviet forces are not now actively engaged anywhere, nor is anyone likely to divert their attention seriously from the West. China, the only big nation at Russia's back door, is a friend.

Furthermore, the Soviet Union, though her soldiers are doing no shooting, is waging a strange, unorthodox kind of warfare against the West. She proscribes her satellites and other friends to embroil western armies in combat that fritters away their strength. Meantime, she indulges in an endless campaign of harassment in the United Nations and on the political, diplomatic and psychological fronts generally.

Only Moscow knows, of course, when this weird struggle may enter a decisive shooting phase. It is for that that Eisenhower must make his army ready.

Under present plans he will command a force of 55 to 60 divisions, backed up by Atlantic and Mediterranean fleets and large air elements. But only a small part of the ground forces, estimated at one million men, is now in being. The remainder will not be ready until late 1953, according to existing schedules.

One of the first things Eisenhower will need to determine is whether this force and the timetable for its establishment are adequate to meet the possible perils of the days ahead.

Special Plates

You may know a chap who likes to boast about his motor car, and the wonders it performs upon the highways near and far. He is proud of all its shiny chrome and also of its speed, and that other ears might be as good, he never will concede. But to give his car an added touch, and one of which he brags, he will go to untold lengths to get some special auto tags.

Now there's nothing more important than a certain license plate, and the year around he worries lest he'll ask for it too late. It may be the number on his house, the number of his phone, or perhaps he wants initials corresponding to his own. Or it's just a number low he seeks, which cops can quickly spot, so they'll know his car is driven by a favored bigger shot.

Yep, it's funny how significant those license plates can be, to the guy who wants a special one for each and all to see. "Would appear the fate of this old world was being put to test, as you watch him plot and plan and scheme for plates considered best. Should he fail, you'd think the motor car of which he loudly brags, couldn't run a block unless it had those special license tags.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Democratic senators came out of their first secret caucus of the new congressional session determined to fight back against unfair, below-the-belt political campaigning such as the fake photo featuring a chummy conversation between Senator Tydings and Communist Earl Browder.

Senatorial backs were stiffened by Clint Anderson of New Mexico, who urged them to make a test issue of the Maryland senatorial campaign which defeated Tydings. While the same vicious type of campaign had been waged in other states, Anderson said, only in Maryland was there direct evidence that the candidate himself, GOP John Butler, had participated.

"All the boys will be under this sort of attack if you don't do something about it," warned the New Mexico senator. Showing the senators the phony, composite picture of Tydings and Browder, Anderson continued:

"Now I have seen a picture of a very wonderful member of the United States Senate who had visited Bikini and had gone bathing in the surf, very scantily attired. It would be a simple process to take his outstretched hand and place the hand of a lewd woman in his, against the backdrop of a South Sea isle. That's what this type of campaigning is coming to," Anderson argued.

CONNALLY NEXT

Then he turned to Tom Connally of Texas and said: "You know, Senator Connally, the campaign is already on down in Texas to prove you are a Communist coddler, because you didn't stand up against Dean Acheson."

Turning to Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia, he remarked: "In the Maryland campaign, Tydings was charged with the loss of American lives in Korea. In the future that sort of comment and criticism, no matter how unfair and unjust, will be heaped on Senator Russell who is taking Tydings' place as chairman of the armed services committee."

At this point, Connecticut's Sen. Brien McMahon waved a copy of "Common Sense," a Fascist publication which had been used in the campaign against him. One headline screamed — "McMahon — Communist dupe," and the article under it inferred that the senator was guilty of treason and had helped to leak atomic secrets to the Russians — both viciously untrue.

"I beat it boys, but maybe you can't in 1952," McMahon warned.

Iowa's Sen. Guy Gillette, chairman of the elections subcommittee, reported that his committee had just uncovered some last-minute information on Butler's finances that "revealed a scandalous situation" in Maryland. He explained that the investigation wasn't far enough along to bar Butler from taking his seat, but that the Senate parliamentarian had advised the committee that Butler could be ousted later by a majority vote.

Note — The tabloid featuring the fake Tydings-Browder photo was held in a Baltimore print shop until Jean Kerry, secretary to Senator McCarthy, brought $2,400 in checks to the printer to pay for distribution. Later Don Surine, McCarthy's assistant, took the Baltimore printer, William H. Fedder, for an all-night ride in an attempt to make him surrender a letter from candidate Butler which appeared to be in violation of the corrupt practices.

HIGH COST OF POLITICS

In Pennsylvania, Senator Anderson also pointed out, an estimated $2,000,000 had been spent in the senatorial campaign. "However, the cost of living had gone up in politics," he added, "and it wasn't spent for slanderous literature." Anderson also remarked that the "campaign in Utah was as vicious as the one against Tydings" that "horrible publications" were put out against Tydings, "that there was no evidence the successful candidate, Wallace Bennett, had directed this campaign."

In reply to newspaper comment that southerners might not agree to bar Butler of Maryland on the grounds of states' rights, Anderson quoted a speech by Senator George of Georgia on Jan. 17, 1923, when he opposed the seating of Senator Ware of Pennsylvania on the ground that it was up to Congress to pass upon its own membership and that the states had given permission for Congress to investigate federal elections.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

PRONUNCIATION CLINIC

Bay City: Will you please give us the pronunciation of the various words ending in -ew, such as dew, few, pew, etc.? Grade 7, Riegel School.

A. The -ew words may be divided into two groups: (1) those in which the "yoo" sound is always heard; (2) those in which the vowel sound is either "oo" as in food, or "yoo" as in feud.

(1) These words always have the "yoo" sound: few, hew, pew, view, askew, review, interview.

(2) These words may be pronounced with "oo" or "yoo": dew, knew, new, stew, anew, mildew, renew.

Now the group 2 words may cause confusion, for the dictionaries seem to sanction the "yoo" sound only in the words, causing the reader to regard the "oo" sound as incorrect.

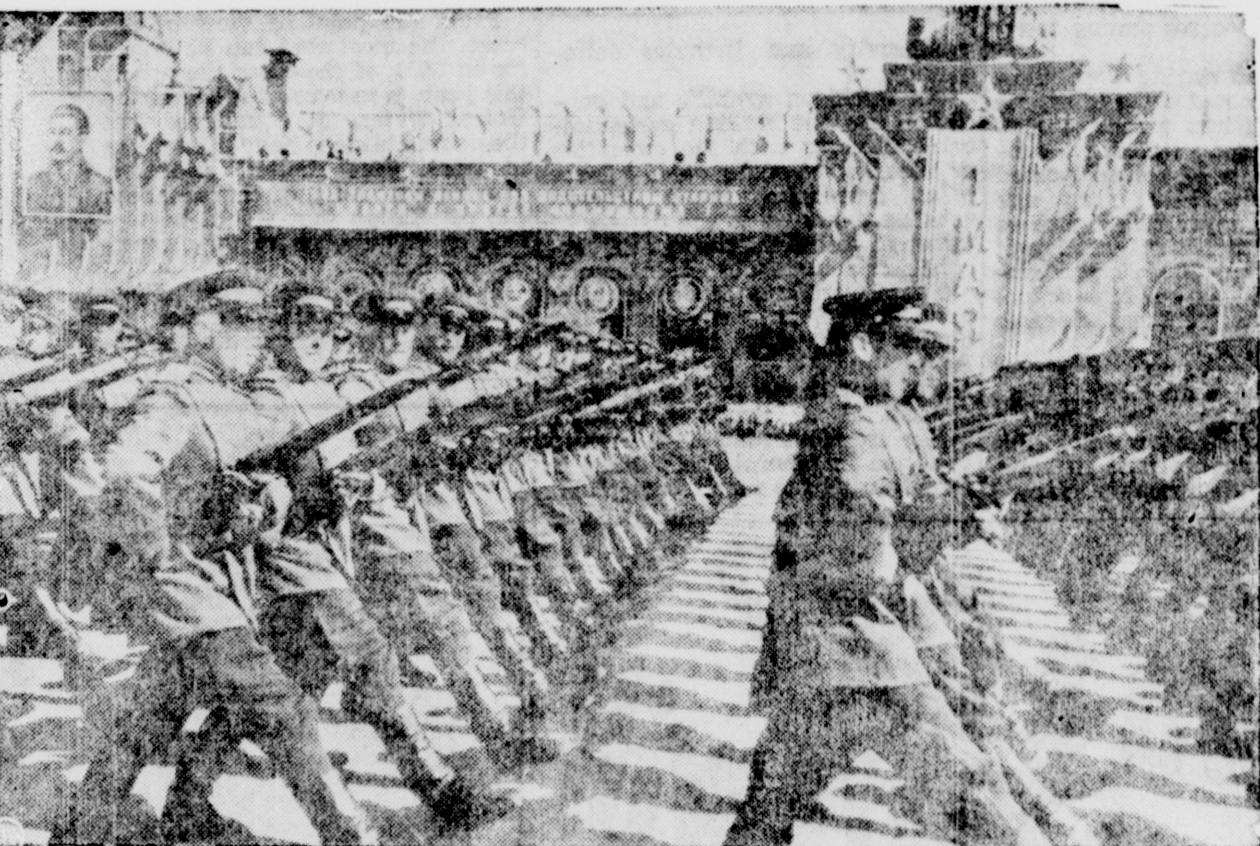

For example, turn to the word "dew" in Webster's New International. Note that the vowel sound is long "u" (yoo). Now note also that after the pronunciation the number 242 occurs. What does 242 mean? Well, it is the dictionary's cryptic way of telling you to look at paragraph 242 in the Pronunciation Section in the forepart of the dictionary.

We find paragraph 242 on page 111, and one has to puzzle over an indecipherable mess of eye-punishing fine print in order to learn that the "oo" sound in dew (doo) "is in cultivated use very generally." This is the case with all the group 2 words -ew words.

NEA Writer Predicts Russia Will Not Invade West Europe

READY AND WAITING—FOR WHAT? Soviet Rus Moscow for last year's May Day, are poised for an as's armed might, like these troops on parade in invasion of the West. But the Kremlin is waiting.

By LEON DENNEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

Russia probably won't invade Western Europe this year because it still hopes to capture that prize without the general war it knows that attack would bring.

More likely, it will go on pursuing the pattern set in Korea and Indo-China—a series of well-planned, limited wars in which satellite peoples do the fighting and dying in an effort to spread the West's strength thin, all over the globe.

Only Stalin and the Soviet Politburo know where the Reds will strike next, but indications are strong that it may be in the Balkans and the Eastern Mediterranean.

I have just returned to the United States from a long stay in Europe. During this period I traveled extensively in nations outside the Iron Curtain, including Yugoslavia. I talked with western political leaders, reluctant satellite diplomats, labor leaders, disgruntled Cominform people, and scores of ordinary citizens.

This article represents the consensus of their views as to where Europe and other main trouble spots stand at the beginning of 1951.

With an estimated 175 to 200 divisions spotted strategically throughout Europe and the Near East, Russia is admittedly in a commanding position. Moscow has the manpower and materiel to overrun a largely disarmed Europe in three to six weeks.

What holds the Kremlin back? 1. It apparently has a healthy respect for America's sizable stockpile of atomic bombs. Red leaders seem convinced that at Washington is saving its A-bombs for use only if Russia invades the West. They themselves are believed to be a long way from having a good supply of these weapons.

2. Despite the tone of confidence emanating from Moscow, Stalin and his aides fear—more than the West realizes—the solid anti-Red front they know exists on both sides of the Iron Curtain in Europe. Millions of anti-Red workers, and political refugees, are resolutely ready to combat the Communist tide.

Because of these twin dangers, Russia plainly intends to try achieving its European goals by other means. It has not given up hope of provoking the collapse of the Atlantic Pact without firing a shot. Hence the plans go forward for the next of the limited wars to be waged by a Soviet satellite.

Convinced that the Balkans and the Near East have top place on the Russian time-table, western diplomats ascribe special significance to an article by Nicholas Zahariades, top Cominform agent in the Balkans, printed in December by the Cominform Journal.

The item charges Washington with building a "Greece-Yugoslavia-Turkey" bloc as an extension of the "North Atlantic Aggressive Pact." It declares the bloc aims to prepare an attack on Bulgaria and Albania.

Writes Zahariades: "There is ample, concrete and irrefutable evidence showing the American imperialist aggressors have picked on the Balkans as a sector of war adventures, timed for the near future. They are using monarcho-fascist Greece, like Titoite Yugoslavia, as a base for their military adventures."

These assertions fit the standard totalitarian formula: accuse your enemy of harboring the intentions you yourself propose to act upon. Eleven days before the Zahariades article appeared, satellite chiefs of staff are said to have met in Plovdiv, Bulgaria. According to diplomatic sources, this meeting was attended also by Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, ranking member of the Soviet Politburo, Marshal Fedor Tolbukhin, Moscow's Balkan military expert, and Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, the Stalin-appointed dictator of Poland.

The meeting is believed to have been a sequel to the arrival of three Polish divisions in Bulgaria, including one of Greek rebels trained in Poland. At the same time, about 2000 Soviet Army officers and political commissars are reported to have reached Durazzo, an Albanian port.

Albania long has been groomed as a pivotal point of attack against Greece and Yugoslavia. From Durazzo, too, the Red Army could paralyze Adriatic shipping and maintain a stranglehold on the Eastern Mediterranean.

It's anybody's guess whether a Balkan attack will come off, as feared, either this spring or soon thereafter. But it makes sense from the viewpoint of Russian strategy.

More than 1,000,000 trained and equipped Turks and 500,000 rugged Yugoslavs represent a more formidable obstacle to Soviet aggression than 50 mythical Western divisions. Together with the anti-Red front of workers and refugees in the West, they are the only real force fighting on the Allied side at this time.

It is conservatively estimated it will take at least 13 months to field a European army of 50 divisions. Should the Bonn West German government decide to go along with the West on creation of a German army, it's figured a year would elapse before 150,000 men could be trained and fitted out.

Meantime, the West will be largely defenseless. Some western diplomats are puzzled that Washington, London and Paris have therefore made no positive move to bring the strong Turk and Yugoslav forces into a tight alliance with the West.

The choice of General Eisenhower as commander of the Allied forces bolstered Europe's morale measurably. But wise heads there realize that even " Ike" is no miracle-worker. Unless Balkan armies are enlisted to help, he will command only a paper force for many months to come.

Russia knows that. And it would surprise few officials in Europe if the Kremlin should try to embroil those armies in a limited war before the West can bind them closely into its defense system.

Stop spending; little lending; no giving.—Rep. Robert F. Rich (R., Pa.) offering a six-word slogan for the "Lame Duck" Congress

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

YOUNGER GENERATION—The parents of a high school boy were disturbed the other day by his reply to the question of one of his chums. The two boys were talking about what they would do when they were old enough to do what they wanted.

"I'm going to have my own car and have some fun," said the son in reply to a question from his friend. "I want to make a trip out West—before I'm called into the army."

The parents began thinking about it and decided their son's ambitions were not unreasonably juvenile. If he didn't make the trip and see at least a little bit more of the America he will be fighting for, he may never again have the opportunity.

THE UNCERTAIN YEARS—Many older people have accused the "younger generation" of thoughtlessness, immorality, lack of ambition and a few other faults.

"They lack responsibility. They do not plan ahead. They only want to have fun."

The present world situation cannot be the result of failure on the part of the young people of America. It is the responsibility of the older generation. The condition came into being while the present teen-agers were infants.

The failure, if there be any, is in older heads that planned not wisely but too well; in whose hearts there was too much power and too little pity.

THE BENT TWIG—In defense of the younger generation let it be noted that environment and heredity form the soul and body of the child.

The younger generation is what its parents were before it; its conduct today is no more than a commentary on the environment in which it grows.

"As the twig is bent, the tree inclines," apply phrases it in an old-fashioned way.

GOOD COMPANY—It has been our experience that, whatever else the younger generation may be, it is not sullen or resentful for being born into this unsettled period of history.

The young people take their responsibilities in stride. They are cheerful and face the future with more confidence and less misgiving than do their parents.

Listen to the young people in their conversations and you will be impressed by the good humored acceptance of their situation.

They are not blaming the older generation for anything—although they could accuse it of providing wars, high taxes, limited job opportunities, high prices, and forms of entertainment not recommended for the young.

ALL DUE RESPECT—Despite accusations to the contrary, we have found teen-agers more than ordinarily respectful toward the "older generation."

If at times they question the voice of authority as expressed by parents and teachers, that is to be expected in any generation. The manner in which the questions are put indicates the respect in which the adult is held.

Respect and love cannot be commanded but must be won by understanding and sympathy. Young people will not respect elders who do not practice what they preach. Hypocritical preaching never steered anyone into paths of virtue.

The younger generation, in any generation, gives all due respect to the older generation. Sometimes the respect due the elders is so small it appears that the younger generation is altogether lacking in respect. The mirror of examination should be held before the older generation to find the answer to disrespectful youth.

In conclusion it should be noted that reasonable parents find more to praise than to criticize in their sons and daughters. Youth cannot be judged on the basis of disjointed times, but in youth's reaction to meet the challenge of the times.

Our young people in the majority face the future with more confidence and courage than will be found in the hearts of their parents.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Lansing—Michigan state hospitals will be expanded by 1,251 beds, the state hospital commission announced today. The expansion will include 200 new beds for the state hospital at Newberry.

Escanaba — Robert Doud, mayor of Mackinac Island, and Joseph Wenzel, manager of the island's Grand hotel, visited here yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Coon.

Manistique—Russell H. Keifer and Sidney M. Keifer, sons of Theodore Keifer of Manistique, are the first volunteers in this county to enlist for a year's military training under the selective service act.

Gladstone—Eileen and Mildred Strand, who spent the Christmas vacation with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Strand have returned to Marquette, where they are students at the teachers' college.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — C. J. Byrns, president and general manager of the Birds Eye Veneer company, was surprised at his home Tuesday evening when members of the Kiwanis club gathered at his home to mark his birthday anniversary. Mr. Byrns, vice president of the club, was presented with a traveling bag.

Escanaba—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brotherton and son Robert left this week to motor for a vacation visit in California.

Manistique — To have or not to have horse racing at this year's Schoolcraft county fair was the most momentous question to come before the county board of supervisors yesterday. The board decided to submit the question to voters in the spring election. The board previously proposed reducing the appropriation for horse racing, and limit competition to horses from Schoolcraft county, because horse racing at the fair is not paying for itself.

State Lists 1950 Road Jobs Completed In U. P.

The State Highway Department in 1950 placed under construction projects totaling $29,881,333, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler said today in the department's annual year end report. This amount includes $4,348,775 for county road work.

The amount of projects completed on state trunklines in 1950 was $18,631,020. A considerable amount of work started or contracted for in 1950 is being carried over into 1951 for completion. The total of state work completed in 1950 was considerably under the year 1949, due to lack of construction funds and also to material shortages which developed in the latter half of the year.

U. P. Projects

Major construction projects completed by the State Highway Department in the Upper Peninsula during the past year were:

1,063 miles of grading and new concrete on M-28 from Munising south in Alger county; 4.8 miles of grading and resurfacing on M-134 from west of Detour east in Chippewa county, completing the relocation of this highway between Cedarville and Detour; 5.3 miles of grading on the M-35 relocation from west of Perkins north to Trombly in Delta county, in preparation for surfacing now underway; 3.1 miles of grading and bituminous concrete paving on US-41 north and south of Laurium in Houghton county, replacing an old macadam road and correcting faulty alignment; 3.4 miles of grading and concrete pavement on the US-41 and M-28 relocation from Teal Lake avenue in Ishpeming northeast to Negaunee in Marquette county, which removes the last unpaved gap of US-41 between Marquette and Alberta; 0.7 miles of bituminous concrete resurfacing on US-41 and M-173 in Menominee; 6.4 miles of bituminous aggregate surfacing on US-45, from Bruce Crossing north, and 4.9 miles of grading and resurfacing on the same highway from Goodspur northeast into Ontonagon, both in Ontonagon county; 9,032 miles of bituminous concrete resurfacing on US-2 from Gulliver northeast, and 0.69 miles of similar construction in the city of Manistique, both in Schoolcraft county. Construction of 4.5 miles of grading and surfacing on a Chippewa county road from Tahquamenon Paradise west, providing access to the famous Tahquamenon Falls, one of the state's greatest tourist attractions, was completed by Chippewa county during the past year.

Under Construction

Major projects under construction or under contract in the Upper Peninsula are:

7.8 miles of grading and concrete pavement on the US-41 relocation between Alberta and L'Anse in Baraga county, which removes the last unpaved gap in the 2,038 miles of US-41 between the Copper Harbor at the tip of the Keweenaw peninsula and Miami, Florida; 7 miles of bituminous resurfacing on M-129 north from south of Donaldson in Chippewa county, which will complete the improvement of this highway which was graded and graveled last year; 6.2 miles of resurfacing on the M-35 relocation between Perkins and Trombly in Delta county, to complete the work on this new highway which runs directly east and parallel to the old road, eliminating two railroad crossings; 1.73 miles of grading, concrete pavement and widening in Iron Mountain and Kingsford, Dickinson county; 7.5 miles of bituminous resurfacing on US-45 from Watersmeet south to the Wisconsin state line, and 5,607 miles of grading and concrete pavement on M-28 from Wakefield northeast toward Tula, both in Gogebic county; 14.5 miles of bituminous concrete resurfacing on US-2 from the Delta county line east to Manistique in Schoolcraft county.

State Ferries

For the first time since the end of World War II, traffic on the Michigan State Ferries (division of the State Highway Department), operating across the Straits of Mackinac between Mackinaw City and St. Ignace, showed a decline compared to the previous year. The decrease, however, was extremely small. On the basis of official figures for the first 11½ months of the year and expectations for the last half of December, it is estimated the total number of vehicles crossing the Straits this year will be approximately 503,000, a drop of about one-half of one per cent under the record total of 505,973 vehicles carried in the year 1949. The unseasonably cold weather of the past summer, which caused a heavy drop in the tourist business, undoubtedly prevented a new record for ferry traffic during 1950.

Highway department's plans for improving service on the state ferries will be realized during the summer of 1951 when a huge, new Diesel-electric powered state ferry will be placed in service. The vessel, now under construction at the Great Lakes Engineering corporation plant at River Rouge, will carry approximately 150 vehicles, about 50 per cent more than the largest state boats now in service. It will load and unload at both ends without turning around.

A new ferry dock is being constructed at the site of the old furnace dock south of St. Ignace. This dock will accommodate up to four boats at one time, eliminating the necessity of loading waits at the north terminal of the ferries. Distance on each round trip for the state boats will be reduced about four miles by use of this new dock and thus should save approximately 10 to 12 minutes each way on the ferry run. To improve facilities at the Mackinaw City docks, a new slip is being built on the north side of the present docks. The estimated total cost of the new dock at St. Ignace and the improvements at Mackinaw City is $2,475,000.

Cottons Are Sheer And Subtle

By GAILE DUGAS

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Sheer cottons, significant for summer as well as for resort wear, frequently appear in both plaids and ombres. The plaids are often in authentic Scotch tartans and the ombres are delicately shaded, from apricot to flame, for example, or from beige to cocoa.

Designer Dorothy Cox uses Hope Skillman's sheer cotton in the Robertson hunting plaid (left) for a dress which can go to informal parties in a warm climate this winter and see further wear next summer. A wide V-neck and slender straps are set off by a single jeweled clip of the wearer's choice. The slim skirt has a ruffle falling into a fluid side-drape. This drape is deceptive; it also doubles as a stole, creating cover-up whenever it's needed for bare shoulders.

Delicately-colored ombre sheer cotton, shaded from pale yellow to green, is fashioned by designer Peggy Thayer into a handsome dress. It's cut (right) with a surplice bodice and an oblique line skirt-drape. The narrow belt is in black suede with pearl buckle.

When housecleaning, transport small bottles and jars of cleansers and polishes from place to place in a sturdy basket. This will save innumerable steps from closet to cleaning area.

New $65,000,000 Manhattan Office Occupied By U. N.

By STANLEY JOHNSON
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y.—(AP)—The United Nations moved officially into its $65,000,000 Manhattan headquarters Monday, but the organization's crowd-drawing activities still will take place at Lake Success.

Meeting rooms for the security council, the economic and social council and the six main committees are not yet finished. These bodies will continue to function in one wing of the Sperry Gyroscope plant at Lake Success, on Long Island 15 miles from the new building.

The press and documents sections will also remain at the old building.

Garage For 250 Cars

Although a majority of the U. N.'s 3,300 employees have moved to half-furnished offices in the 39-story Manhattan building, the structure is still largely unfinished. Moving costs have already passed $300,000.

Diplomats, secretariat and visitors enter over a 1,000-foot swaying wooden catwalk. Underneath is a 250-car garage being built under the 17-acre site which John D. Rockefeller, Jr., purchased for $8,500,000 and deeded to the U. N. in 1946.

The United States lent the U. N. the money to meet construction costs. Excavation started Sept. 14, 1948 and the secretary building began receiving its first occupants in July, 1950. Four New York construction firms cooperated.

City Widens Streets
The site extends from East 42nd to 48th streets between First avenue and the East River drive. New York city has so far spent over $26,000,000 to roof over the north-south arteries and make other traffic and utility improvements for the world organization.

It intends to widen 47th street west to Lexington avenue, providing a monumental approach to the headquarters which city officials expect to become the No. one tourist attraction in this most-visited city in the United States.

The main secretariat building is already well worth seeing. Designed by an international group of architects headed by Wallace K. Harrison, who did much of Rockefeller Center, the structure represents a radical departure from conventional construction.

Its north and south walls are narrow, solid, windowless slabs made of 2,000 tons of grey and white Vermont marble. They are often likened by detractors to giant tombstones and by admirers to noble monuments to peace.

Window View Popular
The wide east and west walls are sheer glass—5,400 greenish, glare-proof, weatherized, aluminum-framed windows.

Inside are 889,000 square feet—approximately 20 acres—of office space. Interior finishes are mostly green and gray marble, blue-gray slate, limestone and granite.

The 18 passenger elevators, eight escalators and two stairways are banked in the center of the building, along with such other service units as heat and air-conditioning ducts.

The unusual design has already given rise to a caste system in the democratic organization. One's social position is judged by whether one occupies a windowed office or one sealed away in the building's interior. This is further complicated by ambitious employees pulling all sorts of strings for a river view.

Topping all others, both literally and figuratively, are the offices and living quarters of Secretary-General Trygve Lie on the 38th floor.

He has a 30 by 20 foot living room with a wood-burning fireplace, a black-marble and glass bathroom, fully equipped electric kitchen, bedroom and a mahogany paneled conference room decorated in mulberry leather.

Lie's official residence is in Long Island's nearby Forest Hills. He also has elaborate offices adjoining the apartment.

Fire Siren Hooked Up To Telephone

TELL CITY, Ind.—A volunteer fire department was organized for the hamlet of St. Mark's, 10 miles north of here, by the Rev. Eugene Weidenman, Catholic priest. Farmers in Anderson township chipped in and bought a $10,000 fire truck, 18 of the younger men volunteered as firemen, and the department was ready to go. The first call came after the house had burned down.

"Wasn't much we could do," said the priest. But he then tackled the telephone system and wound up by organizing the St. Mark's Telephone Co., a co-operative with 93 subscribers.

The siren on the firehouse was hooked up to one of the dial numbers, so anybody in the township could dial the number and start the siren wailing.

If the United States could be placed on the moon, it would cover about one-fourth of the moon's surface.

Huesener Talks On Auto Engines

Explains Operation At Rotary Meeting

An auto owner has one of the most highly perfected pieces of machinery in existence in the engine which repackages under the hood of his car, but few persons realize this and less care, E. H. Huesener told fellow Rotarians in an illustrated lecture at the Yacht club Monday noon.

Using colored charts the speaker explained in simple, understandable language the operation of a four-cycle internal combustion engine which includes a downward piston stroke on which a mixture of gasoline and air is taken into the cylinder, an upward stroke which compresses the mixture into a highly combustible vapor, ignition of the fuel at the top of the compression stroke which causes the downward power stroke and the exhaust or upward stroke which forces out the burnt or spent gases and then the cycle is repeated.

Mr. Huesener said that the average auto motor will operate at about 3000 revolutions per minute at 60 miles per hour which means that the piston must make 6,000 strokes, changing direction each time.

Ignition systems were explained and the speaker pointed out the thousands of times the points on a distributor must open and close or "break" in order to provide the spark to ignite fuel in the motor at the proper time.

Knocking or "pinging" in engines is caused by fuels which burn too fast and tetra-ethyl is now added to premium fuels to provide slower or more progressive burning and thus end the knocking. Getting a gasoline of high octane rating is of no increased value for no auto motors today have sufficiently high compression ratio to efficiently utilize the fuel, the speaker said.

While we kick about the cost of gasoline most of the fuel mixture comes free for the oxygen which mixes with the gasoline and supports combustion to provide the power stroke runs about 9,000 to 1 by weight in comparison with the gasoline used. Providing sufficient air has been a problem of automotive engineers which has only partly been solved by use of superchargers.

Joe Sutter, who has been a guest of the club for the past month, gave his impressions of the meetings and Darl Tang, who will be the guest the next four weeks was present. This is being done as part of the Boys Work program.

ANOTHER MAN'S "FLYING SAUCER" — Walter Galonska, left, of Frankfurt, Germany, explains the workings of his flying saucer, built "for advertising purposes only," to Dr. Oskar Ursinus, pioneer glider expert. Galonska spent years building the "saucer," which has two contra-rotating propellers driven by an electric motor. A steel cable keeps it within the Allied occupation ban against any "free flying objects." (NEA-Acme photo by Staff Photographer Werner Christmann)

Circuit Court Jury Dismissed

Krusic Is Given 2-Year Sentence

Jurors for the January term of circuit court were ordered dismissed late yesterday afternoon after it was learned that there would be no jury cases heard at this term.

Sheriff Howard Hewitt was instructed by Judge Herbert W. Runnels to notify jurors not to report for duty at 10 a. m. today, their scheduled time to appear.

Although no criminal cases were listed on the printed calendar, two criminal offenses developed after the docket was prepared. One of them, involving Joseph Krusic, of Manistique, on a third disorderly charge was heard yesterday, and the other, involving Bernard Joseph Rousseau and John Snow on an entering without breaking charge, is expected to be heard today or tomorrow.

Krusic, appearing without attorney, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to two years in Marquette prison. It was indicated that he would be given medical treatment at the prison and also taught some vocation by which he can earn his living after he is released.

Several civil and chancery matters were reported as having been settled out of court and were stricken from the calendar.

A verdict in favor of the plaintiff was ordered by Judge Runnels in the case of R. J. Ederer versus Allen Jensen, doing business as the Coffey Fishing company. The judgment involved unpaid bills of $1,757.74 plus interest of $334.83 and court costs. The bills were for twine and other fishing equipment purchased by Jensen from the Ederer firm.

Several cases were passed for future attention at this term during the review of the calendar by the circuit judge. One divorce action was being heard late yesterday afternoon.

The bonfire was made in an open, snow-cleared spot between

Alcohol Party Leads To Jail

Two Celebrants Held On Entering Charge

A wine and beer party staged by three young men in one of the Victor Hugo cabins at Thompson Saturday night is having an unpleasant aftermath for them.

Two of the men — Bernard Joseph Roussian, 20, and John Joseph Snow, 23 — were arrested Sunday morning by state police on a charge of entering without breaking. A third, Russell Pelcher, 26, was taken on a drunk and disorderly count.

Roussian and Snow were bound over to circuit court under $1,500 bond each when arraigned yesterday morning in local justice court. Unable to post bond they were placed in jail and may be sentenced at the January term of circuit court, which opened yesterday afternoon.

Pelcher pleaded guilty to the drunk and disorderly charge, and was sentenced to five days in jail.

According to state police, Roussian and Snow entered the Victor Hugo store in Thompson sometime early Sunday morning and made off with six cases of beer, two bottles of wine, seven cartons of cigarettes and a pen and pencil set. Returning to the cabin with the loot, they apparently continued the party which eventually terminated in a brawl, for one of the men sported a black eye when state police picked them up at the cabin Sunday morning.

Pelcher was not involved in the stealing foray, state police said. The three men had rented one of Hugo's overnight cabins. All have resided intermittently in the Manistique area, police said.

Eight ministers attended the session. The next meeting will be held February 5.

Eskymos Entertain Stephenson Tonight

Tonight's the night the Eskymo basketball team is determined to win its first game of the season. They meet a so-so Stephenson team at the junior high school gym at 8:15 in a game that may decide whether the boys will be "getting on the road" to victory or not.

Coach Steve Baltic said today his boys have shown up well in holiday drills and he expects to see them click tonight. He warned them, however, that Stephenson is no pushover, recalling that they scored 56 points against a good St. Joseph team.

Stevens Can Be Dangerous

Baltic warned that they would have their hands full with Mike Michnick, who scored 13 points against St. Joe; Ken Hofer, who counted 17 points; as well as Blom, Lundquist, Poisson, Carroll and Hedin.

The Eskymo coach said he probably would start Dick Shomin, Jim Heiden, JoJo Johnston, Tom Smith and Paul Baldwin, but did not indicate at what positions they would start.

In reserve will be Paul Gundersen, Jim Timms, Nick Prokos and Dick and John Peterson.

A preliminary game will start at 7 o'clock.

Officials will be Norman Slough of Rapid River and Ray Ranguette of Cooks.

Mangrum Sinks Seven Birdies; Wins $2,600

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Henry Ransom, who claims he has never lost a hole-in-one, may have found a second choice. It could be Lloyd Mangrum, who cost him the Los Angeles open golf title.

Ransom, like Mangrum, is a Texan transplanted to a professional's job in Illinois. They tangled in a duel on the back nine of the $15,000 tournament yesterday and Mangrum won the $2,600 first prize by a stroke.

Mangrum came from five strokes back to card 280. The best Ransom could do under heavy pressure was 281. Sam Snead, last year's winner who played this tournament with a broken bone in his left hand, was third best at 285.

It was strictly a two-man affair at the finish. Mangrum, carding a four-under-par 67 on his final round, had disposed of Snead, Cary Middlecoff and other challengers along the way.

Ransom, the 2-day leader, took off a half-hour after Mangrum and learned quickly that the tall, dark pro at Chicago's Tam O' Shanter club meant business. Mangrum got a birdie on the first hole, and before the day was over he added six more, including a near hole-in-one which hit the pin and bounced lightly back to roost on the lip of the cup at the par three fifth.

Ransom, whose hole-in-one was so bad when the pollen starts to float in August that he requires a three-month vacation, credited Mangrum's putting with the win, and blamed his own.

"They were up there," he said, "but they weren't in."

He pointed out that he had 14 birdies during the tournament, but Mangrum had seven on the last round alone. And, he added, "it's putting that get birdies."

Mangrum's win was worth an extra thousand dollars. George S. May, his boss at Tam O' Shanter, chips in $1,000 every time Mangrum wins a tournament.

Michigan's Ed Furgol placed among the first 15 to pick up a fair piece of change. The Royal Oaker won $320 on his card of 70-71-76-75-292.

Kansas State Interests Bo

MANHATTAN, Kas.—(AP)—Alvin (Bo) McMillin "would be interested in the job" if Kansas State wants him as athletic director.

That's what the deposed Detroit Lions football coach said after he met with the Kansas State athletic council.

McMillin didn't say he was offered the job.

The former Indiana university coach who recently resigned under pressure at Detroit said he would like to keep on coaching.

McMillin will confer here with President James A. McCain of the college today.

Another Buckeye Halfback 'Fired'

Illini Cagers Top Big Ten Race

CHICAGO—(AP)—Sophomore-dominated Illinois, which has jelled quickly into a top Big Ten basketball title contender, made Iowa its third straight league victim last night.

The Illini kept their perch atop the conference standings with a 72-69 triumph on Iowa's home floor. For the second successive game, Illinois thus knocked off a pre-season championship favorite. The race now is shaping up as a two-team battle for the crown between Indiana and the Illini. Illinois Saturday belted Minnesota 70-62.

At Iowa, the lead changed seven times before Illinois grabbed a 38-30 halftime edge. With four minutes to play, Illinois protected a 68-58 margin by stalling tactics and settled for the 72-69 final.

Center Bob Peterson scored 14 points while Don Sunderlage added 13, with help of 10 free throws, and Rod Fletcher also donated 13. Iowa's Frank Calsbeck topped the scoring with 20 points. The game, before 13,732 fans, was a rough one with 53 personals called.

In other games last night, Northwestern booked a 1-1 record by shading Michigan 67-64 in the waning seconds; Minnesota posted 1-1 with a 77-64 trimming of Ohio State; and Wisconsin bagged a 2-1 mark by edging Michigan State 53-52 in a last half rally capped by Dan Markham's winning free toss in the last seconds.

High scorers for the teams included: Wisconsin—Markham with 15 points; Michigan State—Bill Bower 12; Ohio State—Bill Wilks 13; Minnesota—Dave Weiss 13; Northwestern—Ray Ragelis 16; Michigan—Leo Vander Kuy 20.

Other results last night included Bradley's 74-55 win over Drake to stretch its unbeaten streak to 15, a record high for the team; Marquette's 65-62 decision over Detroit and Kentucky's 63-53 victory over DePaul.

Indiana, with one league win and only one loss for the entire season (to Bradley), was idle last night but steps back into action Saturday at Michigan State. Other Saturday Big Ten engagements send Michigan to Illinois, Iowa to Northwestern, Purdue to Minnesota and Wisconsin to Ohio State.

Michigan 5 Loses; Near Big 10 Cellar

ANN ARBOR—(AP)—Michigan, a leader in the Big Ten basketball race only six days ago, is nearly in the cellar today after last night's 67-64 loss to Northwestern.

Michigan lost the thrilling battle when Northwestern put on a closing spurt that broke a 61-61 tie.

It was Michigan's second loss in three starts in Big Ten competition—and the team's second straight conference setback. Michigan was in first place briefly last week after defeating Purdue in both teams' Big Ten opener.

Nearly 3,000 roaring fans saw Northwestern's Ray Ragelis sink a long shot to put Northwestern in front 63-62 in last night's closing minutes.

Michigan's Leo Vander Kuy dropped in a shot from under the basket and Northwestern's Larry Dellefield and Jake Fendley sank free throws. This left Michigan behind by one point with seconds to go.

Just as the gun sounded Northwestern's Al Guisfredi grabbed a floor length pass and scored a basket to give the visitors a final three point edge.

For Northwestern it was conference win No. 1 against one defeat. Ragelis sparked Northwestern with 16 points.

Vander Kuy sparked Michigan with 20 points.

Saturday night the Wolverines play Illinois at Champaign.

Communication

Marquette, Mich., Jan. 7, 1951

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the teams in our Junior Hockey leagues in Marquette I am attempting to locate some out of town teams for our boys to play. We desire home and home series if possible but will play under other arrangements.

Games can be played in Marquette on Saturdays at the Palstra where we have a new artificial ice plant. The youngsters are willing to travel on Saturdays or Sundays out of town.

I would like to schedule games with teams of the 15-16 years of age class where we have several teams. Our other teams are in leagues that run as follows: Tiny Tot-under ten; Midget-10-12; Junior-12-14 and Cadet as mentioned above.

If there are any teams in your towns that would like to play our boys I hope they will contact me as soon as possible.

Sincerely,

Buckovich Tribe Here Tomorrow

That bugaboo of Upper Michigan hockey, one Tony Bukovich of Houghton, will bring his ram-raging Portage Lake Pioneers to

PRACTICE TONIGHT

In preparation for the Portage Lake game here tomorrow night, the Escanaba Hockey club will practice at fairgrounds rink at 8:30 tonight. Practice originally was scheduled for 7, but it has been moved back to 8:30.

Escanaba tomorrow night for another Northern Wisconsin-Michigan league clash with the upstart Escanaba Hawk sextet.

The game will get underway at 8:15 at the fairgrounds rink. Because of the great interest in Escanaba's bid to be the first team in the league to knock off the potent Pioneers, a capacity or near-capacity crowd is expected. All fans are urged to be in place promptly at 8:15.

Portage Lake and Escanaba have met twice before, and that was enough for the Bukovich (Tony, Mike and Joe) and Ruelle (Bernie and Jackie) brothers and all the Pioneers to earn plenty of respect for the newest entry in the last NWM league.

It didn't take long for the Hawks to earn the title of league upstarts. Since dropping a 9-1 engagement to Eagle River when only partly organized, the Hawks have been a league power.

They won their league spurs by almost upsetting Portage Lake in their second game. They led at 4-3, 5-4 and 6-5 and only a do-or-die effort by the Bukovich boys in the last five minutes eked out a 7-6 victory for the Pioneers.

Since then, the Hawks stopped Marquette 5-3 and 9-2, Calumet by 10-8 and a Canadian-powered Eagle River aggregation by 6-4 before its four-game win streak was snapped by that same Portage Lake team in Houghton last Sunday.

Revenge Motif

So, again the challenge of revenge rears its head in this clash tomorrow night. And on top of that the Hawks would like to be the first team to bounce the Pioneers, who now lead the league with eight triumphs. Escanaba and Eagle River are tied for second.

Escanaba will have Ben Artwich at goal, Walter Bechtold, Gordon Haga, Harold Sampson, Jim Wad, Julius Artwich, and Lolly Rose available for blueline duty and Ted and Mure Olson, Guy Poce, Leighton Haugen, Bud Provo, Bob Porter and Rusty Hiltunen in the front lines.

The Hawk management is negotiating with other outside talent in Minnesota and Canada in an effort to strengthen the team even more before the player deadline Feb. 1. League regulations permit 15 players and a spare goalie in uniform and 20 players on the club roster.

Lots Of Bukoviches

Portage likely will use the same lineup that played such a bangup game in Houghton Sunday. They started with Larry Anderson in the nets, Mike Bukovich and Fran Lowney at defense and Tony and Joe Bukovich and Bill Lindstrom up front.

That makes three Bukoviches in the starting lineup, but when the lines and defense change and the Ruelles take over, Tony usually takes a turn at defense. There is at least one Bukovich on the ice at all times.

Other Portage standbys are Joe Ricci, Clem Stone, Rudy Geminani and Paul Vitton.

Carey Misses Free Throw; MSC Loses

EAST LANSING—(AP)—A free throw made and one missed was the difference as Wisconsin handed Michigan State its first Western conference basketball setback by a 53-52 score here last night.

Wisconsin guard Dan Markham made his gift shot with two seconds left to win the game for the Badgers. Spartan Center Bob Carey, an extra point specialist on the football team, was fouled in the scramble for the ball but missed his important point after the game had run out to boot the chance for an overtime.

The better Wisconsin eye from the free throw line was an important factor in the win. The Badgers made 23 points on free throws to 12 for Michigan State to overcome a 20-15 Spartan field goal advantage. Markham, who made five of his field goals in the second half, was high man with 15 points.

Wisconsin was ahead 50-49 when the clock went red in the last minute of play. Carey put in a push shot to give MSC a 51-50 advantage. Markham dropped a basket to give Wisconsin a 52-51 lead. Spartan Bill Bower sank a free one to tie it at 52-all and then Markham cinched it with his final point.

Wisconsin Guard Jim Clinton, who scored seven baskets in the first five minutes against Michigan, was fouled out early in the second half with only five points. Guard Abe Nicholas of Wisconsin was a deadweight from the free throw line with eight out of 11.

Wisconsin has won four and lost six for the season.

Michigan Sees Good '51 Grid Team

ANN ARBOR—(AP)—Despite ominous predictions to the contrary, Michigan might come up with a pretty good football team again next year.

True, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan loses a fine crop of 21 seniors headed by such hard-to-replace men as Chuck Ortmann and Don Dufek, who "were" the Michigan team this year.

But given a good center and a passing halfback from the freshman squad, Michigan could field a team like this:

Ends: Lovell Perry and Fred Pickard, both veterans of a chip-dent campaign that ended in the Big Ten title this season and a Rose bowl upset.

Guards: Tom Kelsey and Pete Kinyon. This pair developed rapidly this season and finished with standout performances. Tackles: Tom Johnson and Roger Zatkoff. Both are rated top caliber stuff and would be a credit to any line.

Centers: Graduation of Tony Momen and Carl Kreeger depletes this position but a new man often turns up.

Right halfback: Wes Bradford, Frank Howell, Don Peterson, Tom Witherspoon. Michigan is well-stocked here.

Left halfback: This is the questionmark. Don Peterson can play the position but lacks the passing arm vital to the Michigan single wing offense. A junior, Ted Kress, was ineligible last season but seems to have some of the quality necessary and may be ready next season.

Fullback: Laurence LeClair and

Dave Tinkham understudied Dufek this season and may be ready to take over next fall.

Quarterback: Bill Putich, Ted Topor and Pete Palmer. Putich directed a successful Michigan attack this season and can do it again.

Admittedly, the team would be short on reserve strength. But so was the 1950-51 edition, which took all the prizes.

Forty football players boast letters today. Oosterbaan awarded letters yesterday to the following: Ends—Harry Allis, Flint; Ozzie Clark, Montclair, N. J.; Merritt Green, Toledo, O.; Russ Osterman, Baraga; Lowell Perry, Ypsilanti; Fred Pickard, Grand Rapids; Les Popp, Port Wayne, Ind.

Tackles—John Hess, Grand Rapids; Tom Johnson, Muskegon Heights; Bill Onlenroth, Chicago; Capt. Al Wahl, Oak Park, Ill.; Roger Zatkoff, Hamtramck; Ralph Stride, Detroit.

Guards—Al Jackson, Detroit; Tom Kelsey, Lakewood, O.; Pete Kinyon, Ann Arbor; Dick McWilliams, Cleveland; John Powers, Montclair, N. J.; Dick Strozewski, South Bend, Ind.; Bob Timm, Toledo, O.; Jim Wolter, Ypsilanti.

Centers—Dick Farrer, Trenton; Carl Kreeger, Detroit; Tony Momen, Toledo, O.; John Padjen, Lansing, Ill.

Halfbacks—Wes Bradford, Troy, O.; Frank Howell, Muskegon Heights; Leo Kocesi, Camansburg, Pa.; Don Oldham, Indianapolis, Ind.; Charles Ortmann, Milwaukee, Wis.; Don Peterson, Racine, Wis.; Tom Witherspoon, Detroit.

Fullbacks—Don Dufek, Chicago; Ralph Straffon, Crosswell; Dave Tinkham, East Grand Rapids; Norman Jackson, Canton, O.; Laurence LeClair, Anacanda, Mont.

Quarterbacks—Bill Putich, Cleveland; Ted Topor, East Chicago, Ind.; Pete Palmer, Indianapolis, Ind.

Knocked out Bobby Hayes, 138, Boston, 7.

Lewiston, Me.—Hermie Freeman, 135, Bath, Me. knocked out Bobby English, 131, Fall River, Mass., 7.

Kuchenberg Nets 32 Points In City Cage League Play

Little Mickey Kuchenberg and Bill Courneene went on scoring sprees in city basketball association league play last night. Kuchenberg getting 32 points and Courneene scoring 29 points.

Kuchenberg's 13 field goals and six free throws enabled Harnischfeger to defeat Cloverland College, 51 to 43. Don Martineau hit for 13 points for the college boys.

Courneene's 29 points were one less than half of Wait Window's total of 60 to 23 for McNeess Products. Steve Piche contributed 16 for the winners while Don Moreau's nine points were high for McNeess.

Dick Cota got 10 and Jim Nyquist eight as the Kiwanis team defeated KC, 36 to 24. Al Taylor got 10 for the KC team.

Sportsmen Pick New President

Game Area Memorial To Trudell Planned

NEGAUNEE — (AP)—M. F. DeFaut, Negaunee attorney, has been elected acting president of the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association.

William Asselin, of Norway, also was named acting vice-president at a special meeting of officers and directors of the organization here Sunday afternoon. The two will serve until September, 1951, date of the regular election.

The new acting president paid tribute to the late Peter Trudell, of Negaunee, who was president of the organization for a number of years. The association also took action to honor the member of its late president.

A resolution was adopted requesting the conservation commission to change the name of the Escanaba game area to the Peter Trudell game area and that the association take steps to construct a fitting memorial in the area commemorating the outstanding conservation leader. A committee consisting of Pat Sherman, of Iron Mountain; William Nault, of Ishpeming, and Asselin was appointed to study the memorial plans.

The organization will hold another special meeting here Sunday, Feb. 4.

Father Of Six Admits Shooting His Family In Church Argument

PIKEVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—A 58-year-old father of six was held today following the slaying of his wife and a son and the wounding of two younger children during what officers described as an argument over his family's practice of attending night church services.

Sheriff Esta Conway said a murder charge would be filed and presented to the grand jury, probably today, against white-haired Millard Cochran of Feds Creek.

Sheriff Conway quoted Cochran: "Yes, I shot them. Each one. It was self defense. They was always picking on me. They would have killed me."

Cochran had a gash in his head. He said he was struck with an iron poker.

Officers found the bodies of Mrs. Cynthia Cochran, 51, and Chester Cochran, 19, lying on a bed in the house, 20 miles southeast of here near the Virginia Border.

Another son, Sturgill, 23, was reported in critical condition at a hospital at Grundy, Va. A daughter, Sarah, 14, was treated for a flesh wound in the arm.

Port Huron Woman Held For Kidnaping Death Of Detroit

DETROIT—(AP)—A first degree murder warrant will be sought against Mrs. Sylvia Van Conant, 35, of Port Huron in the slaying of Paul Waters, Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said yesterday.

Mrs. Van Conant admitted she and ex-convict Laurence Nelson, 33, kidnaped Waters and dumped his body in a creek, police said.

Waters was a Ford Motor Co. chauffeur. His body was found in St. Clair county but the abduction occurred in Wayne county.

O'Brien conferred with homicide detectives after Attorney General Frank G. Millard ruled the crime fell within the jurisdiction of Wayne county circuit court. Waters died of carbon monoxide poisoning after he had been beaten and stuffed in the trunk of his car.

Nelson, a parolee, died after a Saginaw gun battle which cost the lives of two police officers recently.

Mrs. Van Conant has been awaiting trial for assault with intent to kill.

Fewer Automobiles Expected As U. S. Mobilizes For War

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—Defense mobilization will mean fewer new automobiles, few spare parts and few mechanics, in the opinion of the nation's automobile dealers.

And the American highway transportation system is worse off than it was before Pearl Harbor, delegates to the annual convention of the National Automobile Dealers association were told yesterday.

Fred L. Haller of Washington, D. C., president of the NADA, declared the average age of America's 45,000,000 vehicles is eight and one-half years compared with five and one-half years at the time of Pearl Harbor.

M. R. Darlington, jr., of Washington, said the nation's highway transportation is "worse off today than pre-Pearl Harbor."

He said 42 per cent of the cars today are 10 years old or older as compared with only 17 per cent in 1941.

Detroit, 52, Caught In Toy Gun Holdup Of Grand Rapids Theater

GRAND RAPIDS — (AP) — Captured by a doorman and four patrons, a 52-year-old Detroit was held today for the toy-gun holdup of a downtown theatre yesterday.

Detective Morey E. Butler said Jack E. Revis, of (6103 York-shire Dr.) Detroit, admitted the holdup because he was "hungry."

Dorman Gordon Vandenberg, 19, and four patrons ran after a man in answer to cries of cashier Marjorie Gilbert, 17, that she had been held up.

Revis was overhauled a half block away and held until police arrived.

Miss Gilbert said a bandit poked a gun into her cashier's cage and she handed over a fist full of bills. Detectives said they took $50 off Revis.

Negotiations Open At Bonn On Arming Of Western Germany

BONN, Germany.—(AP)—The western allies and the West German government opened negotiations today on the question of German armament. A senior allied official said the first session, three hours long, was "friendly and useful."

They will meet again a week from today.

Twelve representatives of Britain, the United States, France and Western Germany participated in the conference.

They are trying to find the answer to this question:

Will Western Germans take up arms again to join in the common defense of western Europe against Russian aggression?

The Germans were invited to do so by the Atlantic pact nations at the Brussels conference which asked them to contribute about 150,000 men to a 1,000,000-strong defense force under the command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Research is to begin in early spring on an 800 acre tract of land and buildings adjacent to the university in New Jersey. Most of the research experts will be drawn from the faculty.

The property was bought for $1,500,000 from the Rockefeller institute for medical research, which moved from the site in 1947. It includes two three-story laboratories, 13 one-story buildings and 26 housing units for personnel.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Air Force has so many volunteers it is putting a quota system into effect.

The Air Force announced it will ration enlistments so that about 1,000 volunteer recruits will be received daily for indoctrination training at Lackland Air Force base at San Antonio, Texas.

A spokesman said this limit may be raised when a second indoctrination center starts operating early this spring at Sampson Air Force base in New York.

The spokesman said volunteers with previous Air Force service or with two or more years of college education will not be affected by the quotas but they may have to wait their turn.

VAASSAR, Mich.—(AP)—The frozen bodies of a 26-year-old married man and a 16-year-old girl were found in a locked garage near here last night. Authorities termed the deaths accidental and said they were caused by carbon monoxide poisoning.

Victims were Patricia Brute, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Brute, of Owendale, and Verdan Hutchinson, 26, of Caro.

Coroner Lee Hutton and Sheriff George F. Jeffrey ruled the deaths accidental, after first saying they "apparently were caused by the carrying out of a suicide pact."

Hutton said carbon monoxide killed both, that the ignition key of Hutchinson's car was turned on and the gasoline tank empty.

Congress Sizes Up Revenue Needs At Near 75 Billion

current incomes. . . . In a system of free business enterprise such as ours, there is no alternative in war financing other than a combination of taxation and borrowing.

Upon releasing Mr. Truman's letter, Byrd told newsmen:

"I feel certain that, if the budget is balanced, Congress not only must cut all non-essential government spending and increase the existing sources of revenue, but also must enter new fields of taxation—probably such as a retail sales or transactions tax."

Byrd did not advocate any specific tax plan in giving his opinion of what might be necessary if the national budget hits $75,000,000,000 to $80,000,000,000 a year.

Republicans Blamed

Mr. Truman told Byrd he had always tried to make the revenues meet the expenses of the government, and added: "present conditions are such now, however, that it is necessary to tax until it hurts."

He mentioned no specific figure, but some members of Congress are guessing that he will ask for about $10,000,000,000 more in new taxes.

The letter seemed to reflect a presidential feeling that it will be difficult to match revenue with expenses in the defense program.

Mr. Truman blamed previous deficits on the action of the Republican 80th Congress in cutting taxes.

He offered an olive branch to Byrd, in the spirit of his advice to Congress yesterday to put country ahead of party. Mr. Truman said several months ago that there, were too many Byrds in Congress. More recently, he said that Byrd didn't know much about budgets.

Charge Of Abducting His Children Faced By Detroit Attorney

CHICAGO.—(AP)—A Detroit attorney was held today on a charge of abducting his own children from his estranged wife last March 31.

Police identified the attorney as William H. Brown, and said the children are Walter, 9, and Joyce, 5.

The children were not with Brown and he said he did not know their whereabouts.

Brown and the children had been sought as far away as Johannesburg, South Africa, and London, England.

Chicago Detective Sgt. William H. Lawler said Brown had wired his wife to meet him at the Illinois Central railroad station when train arrived last night. A detective accompanied Mrs. Brown to Chicago and arrested Brown as he stepped off the train.

Burke Of Ann Arbor Named Chairman Of Liquor Commission

LANSING.—(AP)—George J. Burke, jr., of Ann Arbor, today was elected chairman of the State Liquor Control commission.

Burke, a Democratic appointee of Governor Williams, had nominated John J. Kozaren of Hamtramck, the second Democratic and former chairman, but Kozaren declined.

"I appreciate your vote of confidence," Kozaren said, "but I have carried the burdens of the chairmanship for two years during a difficult period. I have the fullest confidence in both you and Commissioner Miham. I believe one of you should serve as chairman."

Kozaren nominated Burke and the nomination was supported by Commissioner Allab B. Miham, the lone Republican commissioner.

One Final Appeal For Korean Truce Prepared In U. N.

LAKE SUCCESS.—(AP)—The United Nations prepared today to make one final appeal to the Chinese Communists for peace in Korea before taking up an American demand to brand the Peiping regime an aggressor.

The delay, urged by Britain's Sir Gladwin Jebb, will postpone action on the American proposal for at least 10 days or two weeks. Jebb conceded the new peace efforts had little chance of success, but said:

"It must be absolutely clear that if (failure) was in no way the fault of those nations whose one object was not to attack China but simply to demonstrate that aggression does not pay."

He told the 60-nation political committee yesterday that "the present situation in which the government of Peiping is openly flouting the authority of the United Nations" cannot go on for long.

It was clear today that, if Peiping spurns the new offer, almost all countries outside the Russian bloc will swing into line to support American demands for some action against the Chinese Reds.

Just what form the new peace proposals will take has not yet been determined.

Husband Captures Attacker Of Wife In Home At Pontiac

PONTIAC, Mich.—(AP)—Captured by the husband of a housewife he allegedly robbed and attacked in her home here last night, a 29-year-old Washington, Mich., man was held today for investigation of robbery unarmed and attempted rape.

Undersheriff Donald O. Menzies identified the man as Arthur J. Robertson and said he confessed to robbing the woman, Mrs. Shirley Frederickson, and trying to rape her.

Mrs. Frederickson said that shortly after her husband left to visit a sister of her's about 6 p. m., a man walked in the unlocked door, announcing: "This is a holdup. Do as you're told and you won't get hurt."

She said he then asked her to get some silk stockings, with which he tied her hands behind her back. Then, she said he rifled her purse of $34 and left.

After the man left, Mrs. Frederickson said she managed to lift the telephone receiver and dial her sister's number with her tied hands. She told her husband, Frederick, 29, what had happened.

Just as she was completing the call, Mrs. Frederick said the holdup man reentered the house, grabbed her and threw her on a couch, where he attempted rape.

Just as she broke free and started to run, she said, her husband came in. He immediately grappled with the intruder, then grabbed a gun and held the man at bay while she called police.

Medical Men Under 50 Register Jan. 15 At Any Draft Office

LANSING.—(AP)—Col. Glenn B. Arnold, state selective service director, said today that physicians, dentists and veterinarians required to register Jan. 15 may do so at any selective service board office in the country.

If the registrants are away from home, he said, they need not return for the registration. He emphasized, however, that they should give their permanent address on the registration forms.

Seeking to clear up questions which have arisen, Col. Arnold said that those eligible may register only on Jan. 15 from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. Some have been seeking to register earlier.

Physicians, dentists, and veterinarians are required to register if they are under 50 on the registration day, did not register last October, or are not members of the armed forces. Those who hold medical, dentist or veterinary degrees who are not practicing but are otherwise eligible for registration must do so.

Reduced to its essence, the debate is over whether this nation should concentrate its defenses against communist aggression within its own shores or should give extensive aid as well to friendly nations in western Europe and elsewhere.

Mr. Truman said nothing about sending more troops abroad in his personally delivered "State of the Union" message to the new congress yesterday.

Vandenberg Cautions Against Deadlock In U. S. Foreign Policy

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—(AP)—Michigan's Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg laid an eloquent plea before America for unity today as the means to stop a war—or to win one.

From hospital confinement Vandenberg broke his silence in the nation's stirring foreign policy debate to call for an agreed upon course "as swiftly as possible."

He said this country faces "ruthless aggression" and he warned that it "cannot stand" a continuing deadlock.

The ailing veteran senator, hospitalized nearly two months, made his plea in a dramatically worded statement last night.

He attempted to draw no issues. However, he called on "patriots," though their views might be "divergent," to move swiftly toward agreement.

"This is the way to stop a war or win it," he said. He asked Congress and Presi-
